Session 1

Photographic, Visual and Audio Media
Preservation at Tuskegee University

Dana Chandler, Tuskegee University

Tuskegee University has an ongoing commitment to preserving their rich collection of photographic, audio and visual materials. The discussion will place special emphasis on identifying materials, providing researchers and others with access to materials, and Tuskegee's digitization efforts. Dana will also discuss options for placing items in a web based environment, along with finding a suitable means to handle copyright issues regarding materials in Tuskegee's collection.

Session 2

Archival Training Collaborative

Reagan Grimsley, Auburn University

The Archives Training Collaborative provides basic training workshops through Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana to individuals working in a variety of institutions. Reagan will discuss the meeting he attended on behalf of SALA in February.

11:00-11:45

Archives Month Roundtable

Moderator: Martha Bace, University of Alabama Libraries

An open forum to discuss activities which have been planned for Archives Month, and a great way to generate and share new ideas for Archives Month activities in the future.

12:00-1:00

Luncheon at the Dixon Conference Center

Dr. Gary Mullen, a professor of Entomology & Plant Pathology at Auburn University, will discuss his research of P.H. Gosse. Gosse, an English naturalist, spent time in Dallas County during the 1830s. Dr. Mullen will illustrate his lecture with color drawings of Alabama insects done by Gosse while in Dallas County.
